Evaluation, comments, recommendations of the thesis advisor:

The topic of the present work is one of the most complex philosophical problems, the problem of personal identity. Recent developments in psychiatry, psychology, neurology, and evolutionary biology concretize philosophical reflection and at the same time pose new questions for it. The text presented by N. W. Gonzales demonstrates that he can follow a complex argument both in relation to the history of the problem and in relation to the special sciences.

I recommend this thesis toward bachelor thesis defense in June 2023.
